Dale Fracassi Single father and cancer survivor

Received utility assistance thanks to Walk for Warmth funds

After Dale was diagnosed with stage 4 lymphoma he began intense treatments that prevented him from working. With limited income, and colder months on the horizon, he worried about keeping his daughter warm in their home. Dale sought help at OLHSA and received one month of utility assistance thanks to Walk for Warmth funds. He is now cancer-free and very grateful for the temporary help Walk for Warmth provided.

"I spent a year in the hospital. They [OLHSA] stepped up and helped me pay some of my bills until I was back on my feet."
